

A Welsh dimension in the reading corner

Many well known books are available to purchase bilingually, this is a great way of introducing Welsh to children as many already know the story and many of these books have both the Welsh and English story on the same page making it easier for staff to follow.

Story stones

By decorating story stones you can introduce singular words such as:

- House – Tŷ
- Flowers – Blodau
- Car – Car
- Forest – Coedwig
- Castle – Castell
- Sun – Haul
- Monster – Bwystfil
- Caterpillar – Lindysyn
- Fire – Tân

Story spoons

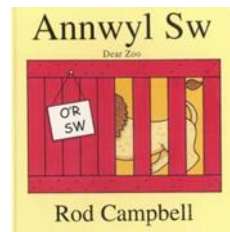

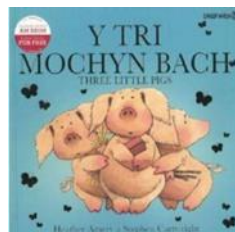

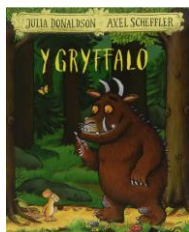

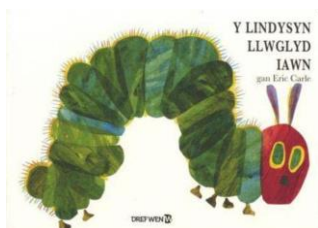

Story spoons are another great way of retelling stories and introducing new vocabulary, if you were reading the story the very hungry caterpillar, the spoons could be the different foods with staff introducing the Welsh names.

If the story being read was Dear zoo, the animals could be introduced using story spoons.

Tuff tray

Themed tuff trays are great for revisiting stories through play. How about placing the bilingual story in the tuff tray along with familiar words and some sensory items or objects linked to the story hiding in textured items such as coloured rice or sand.
